

To contact Upshaw PLLC about an Intellectual Property matter:

Attorneys and experienced patent litigants, please call or email Everett Upshaw at (214) 680-6005 or everettupshaw@upshawpllc.com.

If you don't have patent litigation experience:

I. PROTECT YOURSELF BY:

- (1) Finding legal counsel without delay (because many rights are time limited).
- (2) Making inquiries of more than one law firm (because our firm may not be able to help you in time, or at all).
- (3) Do not share any opinions or confidential information with me or with Upshaw PLLC, until we ask you for them.

II. EMAIL ME:

At everettupshaw@upshawpllc.com with "New IP Client Inquiry" in the subject line, providing only the exact information requested here, without telling us any opinions or confidential information:

- (1) Your name, address, email, and phone, and whether you are the person seeking to find a lawyer;
- (2) If you are not the potential client, the full name and address of that person.
- (3) The numbers of the patents at issue, if known. Do not try to tell us about the patents or anybody's opinions about them. We will look them up.
- (4) Full names and addresses, if known, of
 - a. The current patent owner(s) (and if applicable, exclusive licensee(s));
 - b. The inventor(s) and original patentee(s);
 - c. Any patent licensees,
- (5) The (formal or informal) names, makes, models, versions or years, etc. of any specific products at issue. Do not try to tell us anything about the products or anybody's opinions about them. We will look them up.
- (6) Full names and addresses, if known, of persons making, using, selling, offering for sale, or importing any products in the United States, that could be at issue.
- (7) If there is any correspondence between anyone on the patent side, and anyone on the product side, that is not covered by an NDA, forward us a scan of it.
- (8) If anyone has been served with any kind of legal process relevant to your issues that is not labeled as sealed by the court, forward us a scan of it.

Thank you.
